Agenda

• What is Corporate Social Responsibility and how do the trends in CSR impact outsourcing businesses?
• How has socially responsible outsourcing grown?
• How does IAOP take a leadership role in CSR in outsourcing?
• What are the best practices that outsourcing providers and customers are practicing in CSR?
• How can you and your company implement CR and drive value?
ISO 26000 - Social Responsibility

• The responsibility of an organization for the impacts of its decisions and activities on society and the environment, through transparent and ethical behavior that – contributes to sustainable development, including health and the welfare of society;
  – takes into account the expectations of stakeholders;
  – is in compliance with applicable law and consistent with international norms of behavior; and – is integrated throughout the organization and practiced in its relationships.

– Note 1  Activities include products, services and processes
– Note 2 Relationships refer to an organization’s activities within its sphere of influence.
Social Responsibility issues
(addressed by ISO 26000:2010)

- Labor Practices
- Environment
- Fair Operating Practices
- Human Rights
- Consumer Issues
- Organizational Governance
- Community Involvement and Development
ISO 26000 View on CSR and Sourcing

• “An organization should consider the potential impacts or unintended consequences of its procurement and purchasing decisions on other organizations, and take due care to avoid or minimize any negative impacts. It can also stimulate demand for socially responsible products and services.”

• “Each organization in the value chain is responsible for complying with applicable laws and regulations and for its impacts on society and the environment.”

• “Each organization should promote fair and practical treatment of the costs and benefits of implementing socially responsible practices throughout the value chain, including, where possible, enhancing the capacity of organizations in the value chain to meet socially responsible objectives.”
Does CSR matter in Sourcing?

In a poll of approximately 700 professionals at the IAOP 2011 Outsourcing World Summit, outsourcing professionals responded to this question:

Is CSR a factor in your outsourcing decisions?

- Always: 31%
- Frequently: 26%
- Sometimes: 23%
- Rarely: 13%
- Never: 7%
Agenda

• What is Corporate Social Responsibility and how do the trends in CSR impact outsourcing businesses?
• How has socially responsible outsourcing grown?
• How does IAOP take a leadership role in CSR in outsourcing?
• What are the best practices that outsourcing providers and customers are practicing in CSR?
• How can you and your company implement CR and drive value?
IAOP CSR Survey 2011 Results

• In 2009, ~71% told us that CSR was important, 2011 results show this remains true, as importance remains at 70%.
  - Although fewer respondents view CSR as much more important, this reflects a maturation of the outsourcing industry’s acceptance of CSR.
  - A significant growth from 8% (2009) to 23% (2011) of buyers who always consider provider CSR capability when making an outsourcing decision

• Slightly greater concerns about resistance to globalization/protectionism, global political instability, and climate change

• Strong growth in Socially Responsible Outsourcing (SRO), including Impact Sourcing, from 58% (2009) to 74% (2011)

• Organizations feel that their stakeholders expect CSR, so providers will see this reflected in outsourcing deals

eSCM Guidance

• Both the eSCM-SP and eSCM-CL have places where CSR could (and should) be considered, such as practices requiring compliance with statutory, regulatory and standards-based requirements.

• A Practice in the eSCM-CL calls for impact and risk analysis of a proposed sourcing decision. It specifically calls for the identification of "any economic, social, and human resource impacts of the proposed sourcing action".

This consideration is at the same level as considerations about:
– the organization's ability to manage the proposed sourcing deal,
– security and privacy risks,
– possible financial impacts of the deal,
– impacts on existing contractual relationships, and – the impact of the proposed sourcing action on community, external alliances, relationships, and perceptions.
